Announcements.

We are authorized to announce
JOHN J. METCALFE as a candidate for Councilman from the First Ward. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
E. H. HIGGINS
as a candidate for City Councilman from the First Ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
N. A. BARNETT
as a candidate for City Councilman from the Third Ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Dr. Wiley, the national guardian of the public health, was married Monday to Miss Anna C. Kelton, at Washington. Now that he is in the midst of a honeymoon, the doctor should bear in mind that according to his own teachings all sorts of deadly germs are lurking in the vicinity of human lips, and oscula-tion, if indulged in at all, should be safely-guarded always by a medicated veil.

The Kentuckian is now appearing with a new heading of Century Bold, Condensed, which changes the appearance of the paper considerably and we think gives it a neater and more attractive heading. One advantage of the condensed letter is that the weather report can hereafter occupy the most prominent place in the paper, while on the other side will appear a gentle reminder that no subscriber can afford to overlook.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are poor and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. It's surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all throat and lung troubles.
50c & $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

Turkeys Burned.

New Orleans, The biggest amount of food ever condemned in this city in a single day was destroyed today at a local cold storage plant. Over 1,000 turkeys weighing 10,000 pounds, and valued at $3,000; about 100 geese and a large number of pork loins were burned by Chief Food Inspector White of the City Board of Health.

Dr. White said he could not tell how long the turkeys and geese were in the cold storage, but that from their appearance some of them must have been there some years.

No Need to Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you. "I can't," you say. You know you are weak, run down and failing in health day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone, strength, and vigor to your system, to prevent breakdown and build you up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Electric Bitters will benefit you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at all druggists.

FOLLOWED BUT
DIDN'T EGG HER

New York Gets its First Sensation From the Harem Skirt.

New York, Feb. 27.—Gotham had its first view of the harem skirt Saturday and the sensation was a profound one.

The special production dawned on a startled public on the Brooklyn bridge promenade. She was young, with blonde hair and blue eyes. She is reported to have worn a hat, although none of the hundreds questioned could swear positively to that.
They also realized in a vague way that she wore a black fur coat, a blue skirt, or rather two skirts, one fore, the other aft, and split on the right and left sides, the skirts reaching to just below the knees. And those garments, which broke up Bernstein's latest play in Paris, appeared below. All are unanimous about this fact.

Incidentally, she wore black silk stockings and black shoes. The—the duplicate garments were secured around the ankle, just like those worn by the harem beauties of the Orient. The color was black. They were baggy.

Arriving at the Manhattan Terminal, the young woman carefully picked her way through the maze of trolley-car loops. Escape from instant death or accident were many, as crowds of men, abandoning the trolley to their worst, gazed at the very newest style. By the time she reached Park Row the young woman had to fight her way through the crowd.

By the time she reached the postoffice there was as large a throng following as though she had been an international wedding. The mounted office squad men formed an escort and cleared the way as they marched to Broadway. All they needed was a brass band. At Fulton street the demonstrator of the latest hint from Paris turned and disappeared toward the Hudson Terminal.

A Dreadful Sight.

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N.
Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and wrote: "It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals burns, boils, eczema, Cuts, Bruises, Swellings, Corns and Piles like magic.
Only 25c at all druggists.

Lights Any Old Way.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 28.—Further demonstrations were given here of the adaptability of the aeroplane for land and water service, in a flight of miles over the bay and ocean and across Coronado island, Glenn H.
Curtiss arose from the water, alighted on land and then started from the land and alighted on the water.
The flights were made in a wind of twenty miles an hour.

Not a Word of Scandal.

marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. W. P. Spangh, of Manville, Wyo., who said: "She told me Dr.
King's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble, and made her feel like a new woman." Easy, but sure remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at all druggists.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

A trust isn't the minute you get to be a part of it.
The keystone of the household arch is the kitchen range.
It takes more manliness to forgive anybody than to fight him.
The average man is more pleased to be able to have his name in a newspaper than on a check.

When a girl is engaged to a man she believes him when he tells her he would love to have him walk on him with her tiny feet; after she is married to him she would be satisfied to have him willing to put her rubbers on her without acting as if it were killing him.—New York

DOMESTIC
DIPLOMACY

Joyce swung jauntily into the dining room, took from his wife's lips the usual peck and, seating himself at the table, was soon doing justice to the dainty meal she had prepared for him.
He kept up a stream of conversation and was busy with a detailed description of how he had secured an order for his house in spite of the best efforts of a rival concern to land it, when it suddenly dawned upon him that he was not getting the attention that his story merited. Then it crept into his mind that all his remarks had been answered in monosyllables.

"Are you sick, dear?" he asked his wife.
"No." The answer was brief enough.
"Worried about Johnnie again?"
"No."

Joyce began to think in earnest. In all the ten years of their married life he had never known his wife to be so economical of words unless she had reached the stage where she was too angry to talk.

"Did things go wrong today, little woman?" he asked in his tenderest tone.

"Nothing went wrong today, thank you," freely.

Joyce knew now that the partner of his sorrows was really angry. Freezing politeness was a sure sign of anger with his wife.

"Are you having trouble with the girl?"
"The girl is a jewel, Mr. Joyce."

"Then, if nothing is wrong, for the love of Mike, grin and show your teeth."

Joyce was getting nettled.
"I might grin and show my teeth till doomsday and you would not notice them."

"So," thought Joyce, "that's it, is it?"

Now he had the key to the situation!
Mrs. Joyce had bought a new gown, or something of the kind, and he had not noticed it. Joyce's absent-mindedness was only equalled by his lack of observation. He had been badgered by his friends so much about his failings that he tried to keep all knowledge of them from his wife.

"So you thought I didn't notice it, did you, little girl?" he said, with an air of gallantry. "Well, when you catch Louie T. Joyce overlooking any bet like that, just put it down in your diary that he's asleep."

"But you never mentioned it," Mrs.
Joyce, though visibly mollified, was still a little vexed.

"Of course I didn't mention it.
Would you have me come in and shout about it like a schoolboy?"

"No-o, but you might have said something about it. You might have let me know whether you liked it or not."

All this time Joyce had been looking his wife over to see if he could discover the new thing she had on, but her attire looked as usual to him.

He came out of his abstraction to hear his wife say: "Do you think it suits my complexion?"

Ah! Now he had it! It was her dress!
"That dress is just too corking for anything, dear. You know I always liked you in yellow; it sets off your brown eyes so well, and—"

"Always is a good word," his wife cut in, "seeing that I have worn this dress for two years. But what has that got to do with it?"

"In bad again!" thought Joyce, mentally kicking himself.

"Well, it has really nothing to do with it, I suppose," he said, "but I'd like to know since when a fellow has been barred from complimenting his wife if she looks particularly sweet, just because she isn't wearing a new gown?"

The indignation in Joyce's voice was as strong as if he meant it.

"Oh, of course, dear," said his wife.
"I did not mean to offend you, but I was wondering if you'd like it with my light hair."

Joyce grabbed at the hint like the proverbial drowning man at a straw.
What an idiot he was not to have noticed that ribbon thing and buckle arrangement on her hair!

"Your hair, my dear, looks lovely, as I have often remarked, whether it is adorned or worn plain, but I think you ought to have another one for the—other side."

Joyce patted himself on the back for that clever speech.

"Louie Joyce!" His wife was surprised. He could see that. "What in the world could I do with another one, and how in the name of common sense could I adorn my hair with it?"

Plainly Joyce was out of his depth.
"Of course, you dear little goose," he said, "I don't mean for you to wear it on your head, but I want you to have another one—or anything else you want. So I'm going to write you out a check and you can go downtown tomorrow and spend the money."

"But, dear—," Mrs. Joyce began.
"Not another word about it! I am running this show. If I want my wife to spend a little money I guess she can do it."

Then his wife put her arms around his neck and nestled her face against his as she said: "You wise old owl, I was trying to surprise you, but it seems I never can."

"No, you can't fool papa," Joyce said. This very airily, while to himself he said: "Now, what in the world did she get?"

Meanwhile his wife, with her cheek pressed against his, was thinking: "I'm so glad he likes this new green rug in the dining room."

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. By this bold step Dr.
Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

we hope to receive many new subscriptions on this offer: $2.25 cash for both papers.

TO DONATE BOULEVARD

Latest Story of the Plans of T. Coleman Du Pont.

New York, Feb. 25.—T. Coleman du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., is in New York arranging with his lawyers here the deed of gift for one of the most unusual philanthropies on record. He plans to contribute $1,500,000 for a boulevard across the length of the State of Delaware, from Claymont on the north to Selbyville on the south. The proposal when arranged in legal terms by the lawyers will at once be submitted to the Delaware Legislature.

According to Gen. du Pont's scheme, the proposed roadway will be one hundred feet wide and one hundred miles long. It will be given outright to the people of Delaware.
The only condition is that a majority of the members of the State Senate and Assembly shall consent to it.
The legislators shall learned of the offer a few days ago.

So far as known this is the first offer of the kind ever made to any State in the union.

CARELESSLY ALLOWED

Witness Fees in Some Counties, Says Inspector

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—State Inspector Todd today filed in the executive department reports of inspections of county officers of Marion and Todd counties. He turned in $128.18 from the first named, and $50.92 from the second.

In the report on Marion county, the Inspector criticizes the payment of witness claims, saying that in many instances fees were carelessly allowed witnesses for three days, when, in fact, they were entitled to but one day.

Inspector Todd says this is true of many counties, and he will address a letter upon the subject to Circuit Clerks of the State.

A Smooth Skin

Black Heads, Chaps, Pimples, Sores and all unhealthy conditions of the skin are unsightly and detract from the looks. Buy a box of Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve, a creamy, snow white ointment, apply as directed and your skin will be as clear as a babe's. At all dealers in medicines.

Score One For Fatty.

Auburn, N. Y.—The claim that fat men are rarely found in prisons is substantiated by the records at Auburn. In a prison population of 1,400 there are not forty men weighing more than 250 pounds.

The physical distinction does not hold good, however, as regards female malefactors, for the women's prison contains more than the normal proportion of heavyweights.

Granulated Eye Lids

Do not need to be cauterized or scarred by a physician. Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve is guaranteed to cure them without pain. It is harmless and a sure cure for granulated lids. 25c tubes at all dealers.

REDUCING HATPINS.

"I am glad to see that women are actually going to agitate the matter of the long hatpin," remarked the considerate girl. "I had two beautiful pins presented to me at Christmas and they protruded so far beyond my hat that I simply would not wear them until I had them fixed. I don't approve this idea of wearing a tip on the end of a pin. It wouldn't be pretty, and, besides, it would stick out in the same way the point does now. The simplest thing is to have the pins cut off until the manufacturers begin making shorter ones again. I had three inches cut off my pins at a cost of ten cents, and now you can't see the ugly spikes at all."

Dr. Bell's Anti Pain

A sudden attack of Cholera-Morbus is dangerous. Keep Dr. Bell's Anti-Pain at hand, a dose relieves almost instantly. It also cures Diarrhoea, Cramps, Flux and all Bowel Complaints.

HE WAS CHICKEN'S "FATHER"

Little Boy Was Determined to Protect His Pet, Even if It Was a Great Nuisance.

I want to give you a story (true) about a youngster in my neighborhood, which I consider good. It is as follows: Out of a brood of chickens was one poor little thing, with but a few pin feathers. The six-year-old boy of the family made a pet of it. It would follow him all over the house, and all the sound that ever came from it was "Peep, peep." It incidentally got into everyone's way, the members of the family falling and stumbling over it, and many a stifled oath was uttered by them. On this particular day the mother of the family fell over the chicken, and made the remark:
"Wish some one would do something to that chicken." The cook, who was standing near with butcher knife in hand, said: "I'll fix that chicken, mum!" picked it up by the neck and started for the kitchen door. The small boy appeared upon the scene at this time and overheard the remark, and this was his reply: "Well, I guess not! Guess I've got something to say about that chicken! I want you to understand I'm the father of that chicken."

200,000 TUBES

sold under a positive guarantee. It is good for nothing but the eyes. Ask

COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

"Can't make it out nohow," writes Uncle Kitchel Pixley in the Shreveport (La.) Times. "Ye see, it was this way: Me and old Seth Beardsley was runnin' for constable and after I hears Colonel Roosevelt sail-in' into crooks, down at the depot that time, I begins sailin' into Seth.
Course Seth hadn't no crooked record—hasn't had no record at all, except for chawing plug for forty years; but I paints him crooked 'n San Hill. Then our township gives him 139 more votes than it gives me.
Now, what's eatin' me is, what's the answer?"

There is Only One Pine-Tar

That is Dr. Bell's. It is the original and can be relied on in croup, coughs, colds and all lung and bronchial troubles. Look for the bell on the Bottle.

ADVISES AGAINST RATS.

Dr. Everett Brownell of New York says that women will be bald if they do not quit wearing rats.
The heat generated by the weight, he says, destroys the cushion of fat under the scalp and kills the roots.
Women who are in the house all day are more likely to suffer than those who are out in the fresh air a great deal of the time.
